Forecast For Yorkshire & the Humber
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Sunday 31 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Largely dry, bright and cold today.

This Evening and Tonight:
A dry and largely clear evening and night, with light winds and a fairly widespread frost. Some patchy cloud will develop along coastal areas later though, reducing the chance of a frost there. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Monday:
Another cold and frosty start for many. It'll be largely dry and bright, with occasional sunny spells but cloudier and perhaps the odd shower along coastal areas. Slightly less cold. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
A wet and windy day on Tuesday, with snow for many though gradually becoming confined to high ground. Drier, brighter and milder on Wednesday. Rain perhaps returning on Thursday.
